The Role of the Clerk (The Governance Handbook – October 2020)

High quality professional clerking is crucial to the effective functioning of the board:

- The Clerk must not be a governor or Headteacher (maintained).
- The Clerk must not be Trustee, CEO or principal.
- The Clerk is the board's 'governance professional', helping the board understand its role, functions and legal duties and supporting the chair to enable and facilitate strategic debate and decision making.
- The Clerk helps the board exercise its functions expediently and confidently, so that it can stay focused on its core functions.
- Clerks receive direction from and are accountable to, the Board through the Chair

Chair of Governors

The Role of the Chair (The Governance Handbook – October 2020)

The Chair, with support from the vice chair and the Clerk/ governance professional, is responsible for:

- effective functioning of the board
- setting the highest of expectations for professional standards of governance
- clear leadership and direction, focusing the board on its core strategic functions
- encouraging the board to work together as an effective team, building their skills, knowledge and experience.
- ensuring that everyone is actively contributing relevant skills and experience, participating constructively in meetings, and is actively involved in the work of any committees
- ensuring appropriate induction, training and development

Development and succession

'The focus of the procedure for appointing a chair and vice chair from among the existing members of the board, should be on appointing someone with the skills for the role, not just the willingness to serve. It is possible to appoint more than one person to share the role of chair, or similarly the role of vice chair, if the board believes this is necessary and in the best interests of the school. The board would need to ensure that any role-sharing arrangement does not lead to a loss of clarity in its leadership.'

Main functions

As 'first among equals', the Chair does not have any individual power, except in cases of urgency. However, he/she does have a key leadership role on the board, according to guidance from the National College for Teaching and Leadership (NCTL).

The Chair's job is to:

- Work with the Headteacher to promote and maintain high standards of educational achievement
- Make sure that the governing board sets a clear vision, ethos and strategic direction for the school
- Work with the board to hold the Headteacher to account for the educational performance of your school and the performance management of staff
- Ensure financial oversight and value for money

The key duties include:

- Leading effective governance with strong leadership and clear strategic focus
- Building the team by recruiting effective governors and making sure they contribute their relevant skills and experience, upskilling as necessary
- Building a strong relationship with the Headteacher as a 'critical friend' by offering challenge, support and encouragement
- Putting school improvement at the centre of all policies and strategies, and making sure all scrutiny is focused on the school's priorities
- Leading the business by making sure all statutory requirements are met and board business is run efficiently
- Ultimately, the Chair is responsible for Ofsted's Evaluation of the School. The School cannot be "Outstanding" if Governance is not "Outstanding".

Good Chairs lead by example and ask for regular feedback from their board in order to improve their own effectiveness, and have an annual conversation with each person to discuss the impact of their contribution to the work of the board. (The Governance Handbook – October 2020)

Evaluation, appraisal and review

Systematic annual appraisal develops everyone on the governing board:

- appraisal of the clerk by the chair
- 360° review of the chair
- one-to-ones with individual governors
- skills audits and training plans
- governing board review and development plan

Vice-Chair

The Vice-Chair will:

- Develop a close working relationship with the chair
- Support the chair in ensuring the board functions effectively
- Take on responsibilities delegated by the chair

Together with the chair, the Vice-Chair will:

- Lead effective governance by providing clear direction to ensure governors understand the part they play in driving school improvement
- Build the team by recruiting effective governors and delegating effectively
- Develop a relationship with the Headteacher as a 'critical friend'
- Drive school improvement by ensuring it's the focus of all policies and strategies and that the work of the board reflects school improvement priorities
- Lead the business by ensuring it meets all statutory and regulatory requirements, provides value for money and business is conducted efficiently and effectively

In the chair's absence, the vice-chair will:

- Act as chair for any meeting of the governing board
- Make the casting vote when a vote is tied
- Exercise the functions of the chair in cases of urgency

At times when the Chair is absent or the office of the chair is vacant, the vice-chair will be prepared to take on the role of chair and will get to grips with all aspects of being Vice-Chair by learning how to:-

- Chair meetings
- Cover for the chair
- Meet with the Headteacher
- Support and monitor your Headteacher's wellbeing
- Induct new governors effectively, including during coronavirus (direct them to our induction training here as well, to help them hit the ground running)
